JOE SAGULA

HEAD COACH • 29TH SEASON
BFA, ARTS EDUCATION & COACHING • SUNY NEW PALTZ ('78)
FIVE-TIME ACC COACH OF THE YEAR

Joe Sagula, one of the most successful coaches in college volleyball, completed his 28th season at Carolina in 2017. UNC's winningest volleyball coach in history, Sagula has won seven ACC championships and led UNC to 14 of its 18 NCAA Tournament appearances.

The Tar Heels are 591-323 under Sagula, a .647 winning percentage. Sagula is 794-446 (.640) over a total of 37 years as a Division I head coach, with 11 regular-season and six conference tournament titles.

Sagula has the most ACC wins of any coach in history with 320, and his seven ACC titles ties for the most all time among the league's coaches.

Sagula has directed the Tar Heels to 14 top-three finishes in the league's regular-season standings, including first-place finishes in 1998, 2000, 2002, 2005, 2008, 2014 and 2016. In the 14 seasons in which the ACC held a postseason tournament, Sagula led the Tar Heels to six appearances in the ACC championship match and reached the semifinals 10 times.

Sagula has coached five ACC Players of the Year - Amy Peistrup (1992), Erin Berg (1998), Laura Greene (2002), Dani Nyenhuis (2005) and Taylor Leath (2016) - two ACC Defensive Players of the Year - Kaylie Gibson (2010) and Ece Taner (2014) - and three ACC Freshmen of the Year in Cameron Van Noy (2011), Paige Neuenfeldt (2012) and Julia Scoles (2016).

In 2017, the Tar Heels led the ACC and finished 15th in the nation with 2.82 blocks per set with double-digit blocks in 20 of the 28 matches throughout the season. UNC closed out the 2017 home season on a 26-match ACC home winning streak. The Tar Heels placed two on the All-ACC teams, led by Beth Nordhorn on the first team while also picking up AVCA All-Region honors.

The 2016 Tar Heels achieved new heights under Sagula's leadership, receiving their highest AVCA (6) and RPI (5) rankings in program history, winning their 13th ACC title and advancing to NCAA Regionals for the third time, while taking down a program-record three top-10 teams during the season. Carolina went an unprecedented 19-1 in ACC play and captured three individual conference honors. Taylor Leath became UNC's fourth AVCA All-American after winning ACC Player of the Year, while Julia Scoles won ACC and AVCA East Region Freshman of the Year, and Sagula took home ACC and AVCA Regional Coach of the Year honors.

In 2015, Sagula guided UNC to its biggest regular-season victory in program history, a 3-0 sweep of No. 3 Stanford, to mark the second straight season with a win over a top-three opponent. UNC put together a 12-match winning streak to finish tied for second in the ACC and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Paige Neuenfeldt earned Third-Team All-America honors, becoming the third AVCA All-American in program history, while becoming the first-ever Tar Heel to garner Academic All-America honors.

Sagula led the 2014 Tar Heels to a 29-3 record, including a perfect 16-0 home record, en route to his fourth career ACC Coach of the Year award. UNC achieved a series of program bests during the season, including a No. 7 AVCA Coaches Poll ranking, a No. 5 NCAA RPI ranking and a No. 7 seed in the NCAA Tournament. UNC ran off a record 20-straight victories, the longest streak in program history. The season ended for the Tar Heels in the NCAA Regional Finals in Minneapolis, the first time Carolina volleyball had ever reached the Elite Eight. Chaniel Nelson became the second AVCA All-American with a Second Team honor in 2014, and joined Victoria McPherson, Ece Taner and Paige Neuenfeldt on the AVCA All-Region team.

In 2013, the Tar Heels opened the season with a 15-game win streak, the best start in program history. Carolina finished 27-5, recording the most wins in a season since 2002, and grabbed a No. 25 final AVCA ranking for the first time since that same season. UNC was ranked in the top 25 in each of the season's weekly AVCA Coaches Polls and peaked at No. 10 for the program's highest-ever ranking to that point. Jovana Bjelica and Paige Neuenfeldt earned AVCA All-America Honorable Mentions and AVCA All-Region awards.

In 2012, Sagula led the Tar Heels to an undefeated home record (15-0) and the school's 14th NCAA appearance. UNC finished 26-6 and earned two AVCA All-America Honorable Mentions (Emily McGee and Paige Neuenfeldt), with Neuenfeldt earning ACC and AVCA East Region Freshman of the Year honors.

Sagula captured his 600th overall win and 400th win at Carolina in 2010. The Bronx, N.Y., native became the first coach in ACC history to earn 200 league wins on Oct. 6, 2010, at Wake Forest.

In 2002, the Tar Heels won 30 matches (32-4 overall) for the first time since 1985 en route to the program's first appearance in an NCAA Regional Semifinal. They also won the ACC regular-season championship with a 15-1 conference record.

From 1998-2002, Sagula led UNC to a 139-35 (.799) record with two regular-season and three ACC Tournament titles, as well as five consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances culminating in UNC's the first-ever NCAA Regionals in 2002. Sagula was named AVCA East Region Coach of the Year in three of those five years as well as the 1998 and 2002 ACC Coach of the Year.

Prior to his arrival in Chapel Hill, Sagula spent nine seasons (1981-89) as the head coach of the University of Pennsylvania, where he compiled a 203-123 record with four Ivy League regular-season titles and three tournament championships. Named Ivy League Coach of the Year four years in a row, Sagula coached two-time Ivy League Player of the Year Melissa Ingalls to four consecutive All-Ivy honors.

In addition to his duties with the women's team at Penn, Sagula served as the head men's coach from 1981-89. His record with the men, which competed at both the varsity and club levels, was 111-75 (.597).

Sagula was elected president of the AVCA from January 2004 to December 2006 and served on the AVCA Board of Directors for a total of 10 years in various positions as president, president elect, past president, and chair of the Division I All-America Committee. While at Penn, Sagula chaired the NCAA Division I All-America Committee for four years and served 10 years as the Awards Chairman and President.

During the summer of 1990, Sagula served as an assistant coach for the USA National Women's Volleyball B Team, which trained in Walnut Creek, California. Twice he has coached at the United States Olympic Festival - in 1987 in Chapel Hill as an assistant and in 1989 in Oklahoma City as a head coach. In both cases, his teams took home silver medals.

Sagula earned his bachelor's degree in fine arts, art education, and coaching from the State University of New York, College at New Paltz in 1978. On Sept. 16, 2012, Sagula was inducted into the New Paltz Athletics Hall of Fame. He was a three-year letterwinner and captained the team as a senior.

Shortly after beginning his tenure as Carolina's athletics director, Cunningham helped create a new mission statement: "We educate and inspire through athletics." And that's just what UNC has done during his seven years in Chapel Hill.

In each of his seven seasons, Carolina has finished in the top 15 of the Learfield Director's Cup, including five top-eight finishes. The Tar Heels have won nine national titles and made an additional 10 national championship appearances over his first six seasons at the helm.

Among Carolina's many achievements during his tenure are a partnership with Disney to enhance customer service and organizational practices; the development of the Student-Athlete Academic Initiative Working Group; a compliance review by an outside firm; a student-athlete degree completion program called Complete Carolina; a master plan for UNC's athletic facilities; and the creation of The Rammys -- an innovative end-of-the-year awards show popular with Carolina's student-athletes and staff.

Cunningham is the president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA); sits on the board of LEAD1, an association representing the ADs from the NCAA Division I Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) schools; is in his seventh year on the ACC Television Committee; and has served on many NCAA committees over the last two decades.

Cunningham is in his 17th year as a Division I director of athletics. He came to Chapel Hill after spending the previous six years as the director of athletics at the University of Tulsa, where he guided the Golden Hurricane through its initial move to Conference USA and spearheaded a $60 million athletics initiative. Tulsa won 34 league championships during his tenure, more than any other school in Conference USA, and the football program played in five bowl games in his final six years. He was honored as the 2008-09 FBS Central Region Athletics Director of the Year, an award presented by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

Cunningham, who earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in business administration from Notre Dame in 1984 and 1988, respectively, worked in his alma mater's athletics department from 1988-2002. The former member of the Irish golf team (1982-83) served as Notre Dame's associate athletics director for finance and facilities from 1995-2000 and was the associate director of athletics for external affairs from 2000-02.

Born in Flint, Mich., and raised in Naples, Fla., Cunningham and his wife, Tina, have four grown children: Matthew, Michael, John and Sarah.

2017 SEASON REVIEW

Expectations were high for the Tar Heels in 2017. Carolina returned more than half of its starting lineup from a successful 2016 season in which UNC captured its 13th ACC title and reached NCAA Regionals for the second time in three years. UNC entered the year ranked No. 11 in the AVCA Preseason Poll. The Tar Heels retained 2016 ACC Player of the Year Taylor Leath and 2016 ACC Freshman of the Year Julia Scoles. All three middles who helped Carolina rank fourth in the nation in blocks were still in Chapel Hill. Redshirt freshman setter/hitter Holly Carlton spent the summer with the U.S. Women's Junior National Team. The sky was the limit for Carolina.

But a wave of injuries knocked the Tar Heels off course. With half the roster relegated to the sidelines for significant portions of the season, Carolina struggled with consistency, going 14-14 on the year, finishing eighth in the ACC at 11-9, and missing the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2009.

The season was not without its bright spots, as shifting lineups allowed new players to shine. Senior Beth Nordhorn, a 6-foot-7 middle hitter who spent her first two seasons in line behind a pair of All-Americans, had a breakout campaign in which she led the ACC in hitting percentage for the second straight season and finished ninth in the ACC in blocks per set. The dominant middle earned All-ACC First Team and AVCA All-Region honors and finished her career as the most efficient attacker in North Carolina history.

Meanwhile, redshirt freshman middle hitter Katharine Esterley turned heads with her blocking ability. The rookie set UNC freshman records for block assists and blocks per set and finished the season ranked second in the ACC and 17th in the nation in blocks per set. Senior Taylor Fricano, who saw action at both middle and opposite hitter, was the third Tar Heel to average more than a block per set, helping Carolina to lead the ACC and rank 15th in the nation with 2.82 team blocks per set.

Redshirt freshman Holly Carlton seemed like she could do it all, playing six rotations as both a setter and an opposite hitter. The 6-foot-7 rookie recorded four triple-doubles on the year. Her first three had 10+ kills, assists and digs, then she came a kill shy of the first-ever quadruple-double with 22 assists, 13 digs, 10 blocks and nine digs. Carlton was the first Tar Heel since 2005 to record a triple-double, the first since 1992 to post more than one, and the first ever to register two different types.

Amidst all the injuries, junior team captain Taylor Leath held firm at outside hitter. One of two players to appear in every set, she led Carolina in kills and points and was second in digs and aces. Asked to shoulder a tremendous amount of responsibility both on and off the court, Leath turned in another strong season, earning All-ACC Second Team and AVCA All-Region Honorable Mention as well as an ACC Player of the Week nod in September.

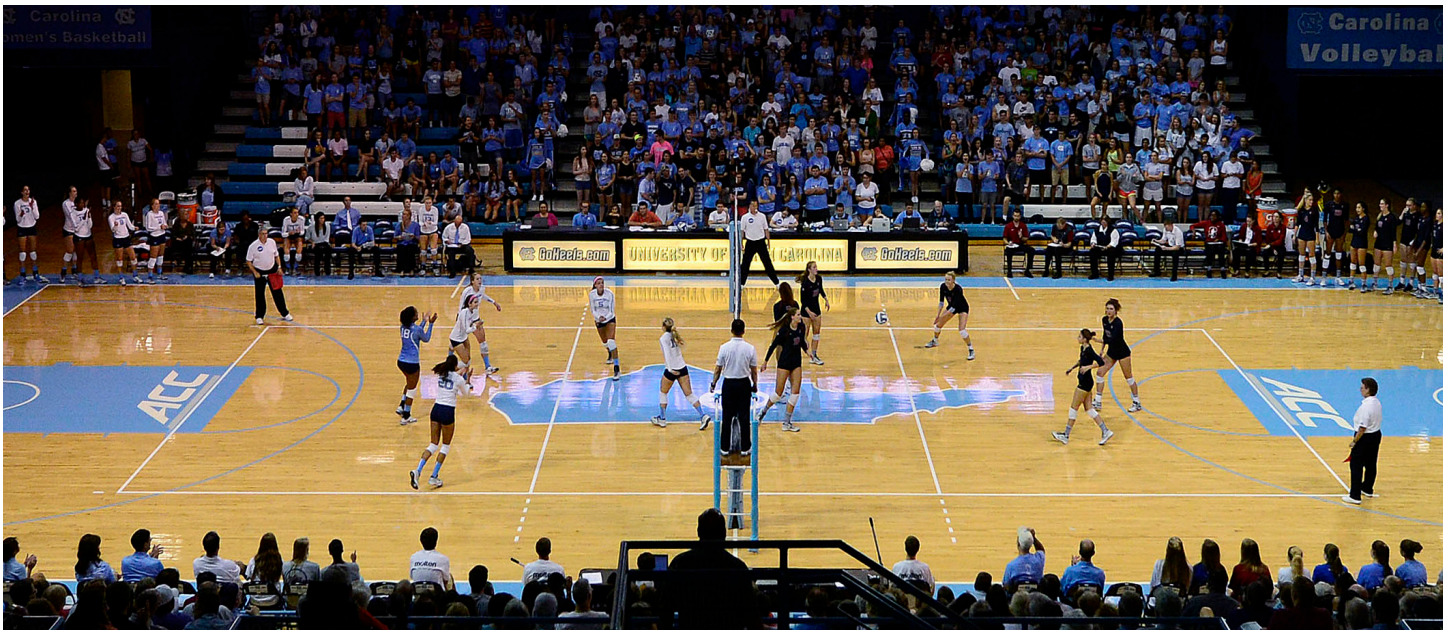
CARMICHAEL ARENA - HOME OF CAROLINA VOLLEYBALL



Initially the home to Carolina's men's basketball and wrestling teams, Carmichael Arena is currently the home for volleyball, gymnastics, wrestling and women's basketball teams. Though the men's basketball team moved to the Dean E. Smith Center midway through the 1985-1986 season, the other four sports have continued to call Carmichael home. Prior to moving to the Smith Center, the Tar Heel men's basketball team compiled an amazing 169-20 record at Carmichael Arena, including a perfect 5-0 during the first half of the 1985-86 season.

Prior to the 1976-77 season, 1,200 seats were added to bring historic Carmichael to a capacity of 10,180. On January 22, 1999, the first-ever sold-out crowd filled Carmichael to capacity to watch the Carolina women's basketball team play Duke. UNC also drew a capacity crowd for the Jan. 20, 2003, game against Duke.

Carolina volleyball also hosted a near-capacity crowd of 9,850 in 2001 when they hosted Kansas prior to the men's basketball Midnight Madness event.

Carmichael Arena adjoins Woollen Gymnasium, a long-time site of varsity competition and current home of physical education and intramural activities.

The Arena is named for the late William D. Carmichael, Jr., a highly popular figure on campus who served as the university's comptroller, then as its vice-president. He also served for many years as the Consolidated University's acting president. Carmichael passed away in 1961.

Carmichael Arena was the site of the 1987 U.S. Olympic Festival volleyball competition. On March 3, 2001, the first-ever MatJam, the wrestling championships for the Atlantic Coast, Colonial, and Southern conferences, was held at Carmichael. It has also been the host of NCAA Tournament games for both women's basketball and volleyball, as well as numerous North Carolina state high school championships in volleyball, girls' basketball, and wresting. Athletic camps, cheerleading camps, intramural games, and amateur competition of various kinds make Carmichael a busy place.

The Arena had a new floor installed after a fire in the spring of 1998. The new floor proved to be a good omen for Carolina athletics. The volleyball team went undefeated in 17 games including victories over nonconference opponents Notre Dame and Tennessee. Gymnastics also had a perfect home record, going 6-0 in Carmichael for the first time in school history. The women's basketball team went 16-2 in games at Carmichael during the 1998-99 season. Wrestling won three of its home meets during the 1998-99 season, including an overwhelming 40-0 victory Maryland.

In 2010, Carmichael underwent a complete renovation which incorporated a new infrastructure that included air-conditioning, an additional wing of new office suites for Olympic Sport Coaches in Field Hockey, Fencing, Gymnastics, Women's Lacrosse, Rowing, Volleyball, Wrestling, and a new suite for Women's Basketball, and also includes administrative offices for game operations and Executive Associate Athletic Director Larry Gallo.

The two year, $30 million project included a new jumbo video scoreboard, ribbon board, new acoustics, lighting and sound system. The spacious new entry and reception area features a state of the art Women's Basketball Museum, as well as new trophy cases and memorabilia recognizing the history of the gymnastics, volleyball and wrestling teams with video screens throughout the arena. The hallways are wood-lined and decorated with graphics of Carolina's most outstanding athletes with well over 100+ All Americans in UNC's 28 sports.

Additional renovations were completed in 2015, as the volleyball team moved into the Ken and Cheryl Williams Volleyball Team Room. More than twice the size of the previous locker room, the new private area features a locker room, team room, kitchen, and coaches' area, and is equipped with fully-interactive touch-screen television displays.

The state of the art facility now has a capacity of 6,822. The name of the building was officially changed to Carmichael Arena in the dedication on Feb. 28, 2010. It is centrally located in the middle of campus at 310 South Road, Chapel Hill, NC 27514.

The Ken and Cheryl Williams Team Room opened in November 2015.

CAROLINA TRADITIONS

WHY TAR HEELS?

UNC athletic teams are known as the Tar Heels because North Carolina is "The Tar Heel State."

One legend has the nickname being applied to the state's residents as long ago as the Revolutionary War.

According to this story, the troops of British General Cornwallis were fording what is now known as the Tar River between Rocky Mount and Battleboro when they discovered that tar had been dumped into the stream to impede their crossing. When they finally got across the river they found their feet completely black with tar. Their observation that anyone who waded North Carolina rivers would acquire tar heels led to the nickname first being used.

Others say the nickname was acquired during the Civil War. During one of that war's fiercest battles a column supporting North Carolina troops was driven from the field. After the battle, the North Carolinians who had successfully fought it out alone, happened to meet the regiment which had fled to safety and were greeted with the question, "Any more tar down in the Old North State, boys?"

"No, not a bit," shot back one of the North Carolina soldiers. "Old Jeff's bought it all up," he went on, referring to Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy.

"Is that so? What's he going to do with it?"

"He's going to put it on you'ns heels to make you stick better in the next fight."

Upon hearing of the incident, Robert E. Lee smiled and said to a fellow officer, "God bless the Tar Heel boys."

A letter found in 1991 by State Archivist David Olson lends credence to another more direct theory. A letter from Maj. Joseph Engelhard describes a fight involving men from North Carolina in which Lee was heard to have said, "There they stand as if they have tar on their heels."

The letter, dated August 24, 1864, told the tale of a battle on the outskirts of Petersburg, Va. Engelhard was elected secretary of state for North Carolina in 1876.

RAM MASCOT

Since Carolina's nickname is Tar Heels, it might seem strange to have a ram as a mascot. It is. But, there is a good explanation. It's offered by Vic Huggins, Carolina's head cheerleader back in 1924.

"In 1924 school spirit was at a peak," Huggins once explained. "But something seemed to be missing. One day it hit me. Georgia had a bulldog for a mascot and State a wolf. What Carolina needed was a symbol."

Two years earlier the Tar Heels had posted a brilliant 9-1 record. The star of that 1922 team was a bruising fullback named Jack Merritt. Merritt was nicknamed "the battering ram" for the way he plunged into lines. It seemed natural to Huggins to link a mascot with Merritt's nickname.

"Charlie Woollen, the athletic business manager at that time, agreed with the idea and gave us $25 to purchase a fitting mascot," said Huggins.

Rameses the First was shipped in from Texas, arriving just in time to be introduced at a pep rally before the VMI game. Complete with a monogram blanket on his back, Rameses helped make the pep rally one of the school's greatest.

Then the ram was taken to Emerson Field where Carolina was an underdog to a strong VMI team. But, for three quarters the Tar Heels battled the visitors to a scoreless tie.

Late in the fourth period Carolina's Bunn Hackney was called upon to attempt a field goal. Before taking the field he stopped to rub Rameses' head for good luck.

Seconds later Hackney's 30-yard dropkick sailed between the goalposts, giving the Tar Heels a 3-0 victory and a legendary mascot.

SCHOOL COLORS

The adoption of light blue and white as UNC's colors dates back to the 19th Century. When the University reopened following the Civil War, most social activities were directed by two literary societies, the Dialectic and Philanthropic. The official color of the Di was light blue and that of the Phi white.

On public occasions the student officers, marshals and ball managers were chosen equally from the membership of the two societies. It had long been the custom of each society for its members to wear its color on such occasions. However, the chief marshal and chief ball manager, one from the Di and the other from the Phi, wore combination light blue and white regalias and rosettes signifying that they represented the whole student body.

So it seemed only natural for the fans to adorn themselves with the same combination as that used by the chief marshals and ball managers, colors that represented not membership in a society, but a University student body.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Advancing to graduation, Building Character, Developing leadership

BETH NORDHORN
Athletic Director's Scholar-Athlete

The Academic Support Program is housed in the Loudermilk Center for Excellence, a 150,000-square-foot facility that serves all of Carolina's nearly 800 student-athletes across 28 varsity sports. The Loudermilk Center's largest feature is the John W. Pope Student-Athlete Academic Support Center. This facility provides classrooms for teaching and tutoring, study lounges, office space and a computer lab.

The floor also includes offices for the Student-Athlete Development program, which guides students in personal development, leadership development and career development.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT PROGRAM for STUDENT-ATHLETES

The Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes (ASPSA) reports directly to the Office of the Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost and is uniquely positioned to collaborate with faculty, the Department of Athletics and the campus community to support student-athletes as they excel in the classroom and compete in athletics. The ASPSA helps student-athletes explore their academic interests and abilities as well as provides numerous academic services including tutoring, secondary academic and career advising, assistance with University and NCAA eligibility, and coordination of academic honors and awards. In addition to the Director/Assistant Provost, the ASPSA staff includes 12 academic counselors, three learning specialists, and an office manager.

ASPSA staff work together to guide and support student-athletes throughout their career at Carolina, beginning with an introduction to academics at UNC during the recruiting process through graduation and beyond. All incoming student-athletes, as well as those in need of more intensive academic support, participate in the My Academic Plan (MAP) program. Academic counselors and learning specialists work with each student-athlete to customize his or her MAP based on academic preparedness, course schedule, and individual need.

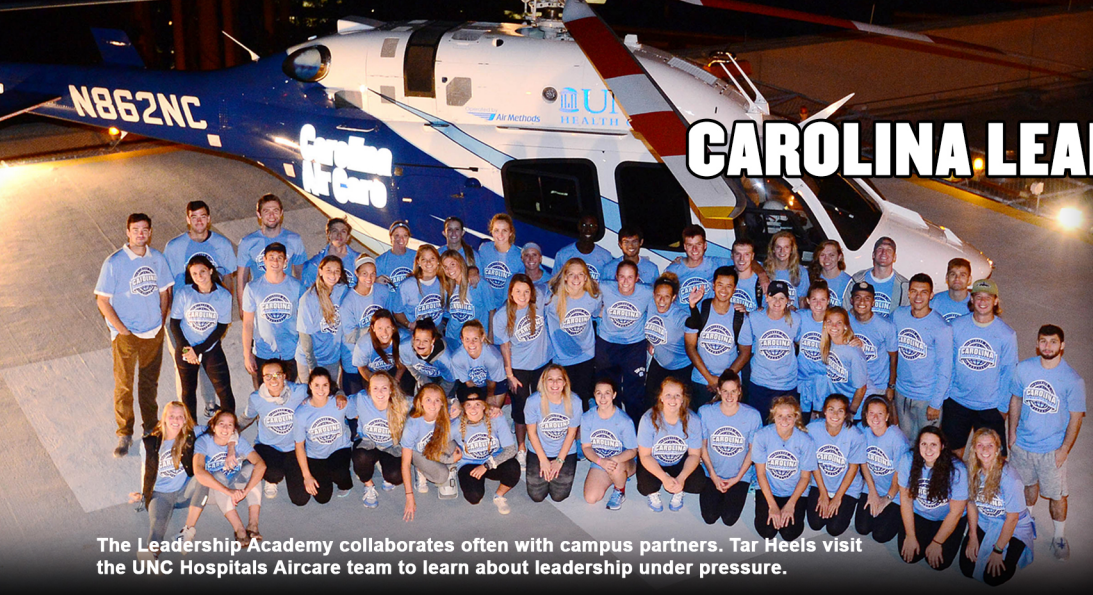
RICHARD A. BADDOUR CAROLINA LEADERSHIP ACADEMY



The Leadership Academy collaborates often with campus partners. Tar Heels visit the UNC Hospitals Aircare team to learn about leadership under pressure.

Richard A. Baddour Carolina Leadership Academy

The Richard A. Baddour Carolina Leadership Academy develops world-class leaders for a lifetime of service and success. In 2004, its launch marked the first leadership development program in collegiate athletics, and in the intervening years, it has prided itself on being the premier leadership development program in collegiate athletics. It was the first and continues to stand as the best of its kind.

Programming is based upon descriptive and applied frameworks. A descriptive framework describes how student-athletes progress through the programming. It is a leadership depth chart and pipeline. An applied leadership framework provides a language and an architecture with which to speak about leadership. UNC features an applied framework which is unique to Carolina and uniquely Carolina. The frameworks showcases the interdependence of leading self and leading with others.

Leadership Academy Framework

Carolina NAVIGATE helps first-year student-athlete navigate the Carolina CREED Statement.

Carolina ACCELERATE helps participants to accelerate their leadership development process and leadership efforts.

Carolina INCUBATE helps participants to incubate the leadership experience in a safe, controlled environment.

Carolina ACTIVATE helps participants to activate the resources to co-lead the team with fellow leaders and coaches.

Carolina CULTIVATE develops participants as mentors. The program helps participants to cultivate the first-year experience for participants in Carolina NAVIGATE.
